The Equality of It All

HAPPY IN THEIR WORK - Two women have broken down another barrier in the once-male dominated work world. Sharon Adams (right) splices telephone cable to pay phone damaged in a recent storm, while Pamela Fortune (left) lights a gas furnace after making necessary repairs at a Westlake home. Both say they are not women-libbers and intend to make utility jobs their career. Pamela is with PG&E and Sharon with Pacific Phone Company.

There appear to be few surprises left in this workaday world once dominated by the male of the species.

Few eyebrows flutter when a recognizably female voice comes on the intercom of an airliner, introducing herself as the aircraft's copilot - a once-male seat.

Seeing a female bartender. postal worker, police officer, barber, taxi driver or BART train engineer is now commonplace. There were a few rumbles several years ago when a woman truck driver hauled her rig across the country.

A few more utterances from slightly outraged males when females, the "weaker of the sex," went to sea with the U.S. Navy, pulling duty side by side with their male counterparts as able-bodied seapersons. Latest hurdle cleared by the ladies is in the public utility field, and we don't mean as telephone operators or meter readers for the gas

In the Daly City area there are now two young women working alongside men climbing utility poles to instal' telephones and carry ing gas meters into darkened basements to hook them up.

Pamela is not a womenlibber, she says.

Asked how she got started in the utility field, she replied "My electric toaster got me started in this car

The toaster refused to work so Pamela decided to take it apart and find out what was wrong

"I enjoyed taking the toaster apart and putting it back together so much I decided to try to find work in that field," she recalled while tinkering with a gas stove in Daly City recently.

Her husband gave his blessings to Pamela's decision and she applied to PG&E for a job

She passed the test and she was sent to school for four months.

"They never gave me any trouble. In fact, the people at PG&E encouraged me to try for the job," she said. That was 10 months ago.

Pamela is the first woman in the North County division of PG&E doing meter work. There are 141 men in the division. She carries gas meters weighing upwards of 16 pounds and installs them an alternative that no development project on the mountain should be permitted and the site used strictly for park and open space, is among the 'very important' planning decisions made by the San Mateo County Planning Planning Commission and Department in establishing its process for evaluating the plan for development of the mountain.

"Of course I realize I can't possibly carry and install the large meters (some weighing 50 pounds) because all people - men and women have their limitations. Pamela said.

A progress report on the evaluation and preparation of an environmental impact report (EIR) for the proposed development was made Wednesday to the County Planning Commission by planning department * staff members.

Planner Mark Barchas said that rather than the county attempt to come up with urbanization alternatives, it has been decided that it should "concentrate on pointing out the strengths and weaknesses of the plan through a thorough evalua-

Also, because of the significance of the site and the process, the alternative of 'no project" and use of the site strictly for parks and open space purposes "should be explicitly and thoroughly analyzed," Barchas stated.

Other major decisions in making up the evaluation procedure:

The primary method of evaluation should be to carefully determine goals, policies and urbanization standards for each of the neighboring jurisdictions, for the county, for the region and for the nation and then to use these goals, policies and standards as a yardstick against which the plan should be measured.

36,000 Take Daly City Run

An Increase in BART Passengers

By FRANK LaPIERRE

District — mostly bad. But the fact remains, the BART system carries some 85,000 daily riders to and from their jobs, shopping and other points around the Bay Area daily.

On the 7.5 mile Daly City to downtown San Francisco line alone, more than 36,000 people now ride the system every day. During the recent gasoline shortage, use of the system jumped 27 per cent, according to available fig-

And while passengers have increased throughout the system, crime and vandalism almost has been nil.

BART's safety record is another plus for the system, which has been plagued with financial difficulties and completion setbacks since its inception 10 years ago.

Critics of the system charge it is unsafe at any speed; that doors fly open while trains are speeding along: that station escalators have been known to reverse, tossing people to the floor and injuring them; and, that parking is difficult.

There have been some cases of equipment failure, BART officials admit.

The on-time schedule of the trains is good.

Most patrons of the system feel they are getting their 35 cents worth on the Daly City-Montgomery Street segment of the line, BART officials believe.

Parking at the Daly City terminus station has been a headache which can only be solved with improvement of the feeder bus system, not only in Daly City but up and safety measures concerning down the track, BART experts feel.

These same officials had projected crime would BART officials now ven- increase on the system along

Coast Federal Savings opens in Daly City

Coast Federal's new office is at Serramonte Plaza. It joins the more than twenty-five Coast Federal offices throughout the state. During our open house celebration we're giving away a free gift. One that's both educational and informative. It's a book on gardening under glass. It-will show you how to grow herbs in your kitchen.

Just stop by and pick one up. In addition to the free book, you can find out about Coast Federal's Fringe Benefits Package.

But the best thing is, it will give us a chance to say hello.

Free Checking Accounts and Safe Deposit Boxes.

That's right. Coast Federal will give you both. Absolutely free. A free personal checking account at a major bank. And a free safe deposit box just for maintaining a $2,500 balance in a Coast savings account.

The Insiders Club.

Now you can get everything you need from a new car to a color TV to theatre tickets all at special low "Insiders" prices. Just name it. Coast's friendly Insiders Club representatives will arrange it. To make it even better, Insiders get special free services too. Free travelers checks. Free money orders. Free notary services. Free note collection services. And all you have to do is open an account for $1,000. Or more.

High Interest Rates.

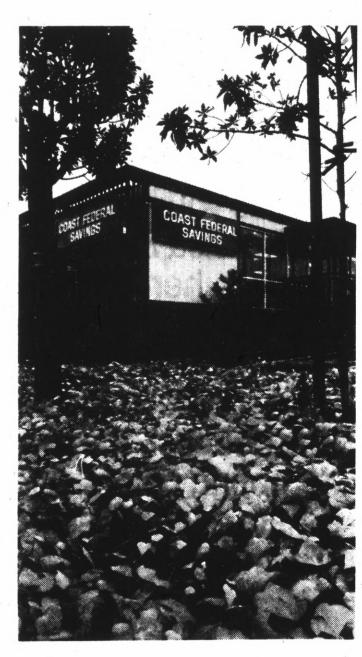

Based on an annual rate of 5.25% our regular passbook accounts yield 5.39% annually. And each account is flexible enough to let you take money out when you want.

Our certificate accounts return up to 7½% a year. It's the highest interest rate allowed by the government. And higher than any bank.

Of course, federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty on all certificate account withdrawals prior to maturity. Everything is spelled out in the free booklet that's available by phone or in person from any Coast office.

Saturday Service, too.

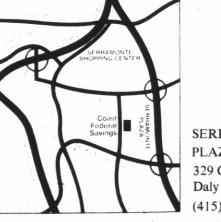

Now there's not a reason in the world not to open an account at Coast. Because we're open six days a week. Monday through Thursday from 9 to 4. Fridays 9 to 6. And Saturdays 9 to 1. So pick a time that's right for you. Stop in. Meet the friendly people at Coast. Join in our great Grand Opening Celebration. And find out for yourself why more and more people like you are opening an account at the all new billiondollar strong Coast Federal Savings office.

Offices in Oakland, Richmond, San Jose, Walnut Creek, San Leandro, and Concord. Other offices throughout California.

Serra Elects Trustees

Serra High School parents have elected three new members to the board of education there.

They are Mrs. James E. Howell of San Mateo, J. Richard Arellano of San Carlos and John Curran of Redwood City. All will serve three-year terms.

Mrs. Howell is currently president of the Serra Mothers' Auxiliary. She is a past president of the San Mateo Coyote Museum Auxiliary and San Francisco Opera Action. She is a graduate of Dominican College of San Rafael and is a specialist in tutoring handicapped children. She is a member of St. Bartholomew parish.

Both Arellano and Curran are graduates of the University of San Francisco.

Arellano has served as a board officer of the San Francisco Life Underwriters and is a board member of San Francisco Serra International. He was president of St. Charles parish council for two years. Himself a graduate and student body president of Serra. Curran is an insurance broker and agent, with nine children. He served in the Marines, as a special agent for the FBI and naval intelligence and has experience in industrial security. He is a member of St

Instead of the students waiting in the long stationary lines and signing up on carbon copied papers, students chose their classes according to the tentative class offerings and put their choices on a forecast work sheet weeks before the Arena Day. Juniors and seniors were asked to sign up for a spring alternate for their English and social science electives.

Students went to the cafeteria to pick up their computer name cards and gave them to the department representative located in various rooms around the school. The forecast work sheet was turned into the last class that students signed up for.

But, for many, the new lines were a hassle:

"I think this system is really stupid, because you had to wait a long time in one line, just to give a card to a teacher who was angry and pushy, while in another line, all you had to do was drop it off," said one Terra

Library Friends Plan Member Drive

April is membership drive month for The Friends of the Daly City Library.

A charitable organization, Friends, was founded to foster closer relations between the Daly City Library and the citizens of Daly City and environs; to promote knowledge of the functions, resources, services and needs of the library; to participate in the development of a program for the extension and improvement of the Library services and resources, and to aid in the provision of adequate housing and other facilities for the Daly City Library and its branches.

Mrs. William Bagnall, membership chairwoman, points out that for the first time in its 18 years of existence, The Friends recently raised dues; however, the increase was nominal and minimum contribution for an individual membership is $2 per year; and for family membership, $3.50 per year.

Patron contribution remains a minimum of $25 per year; and club or organization, $5 per year. Mrs. Bagnall may be reached at 100 Lincoln Ave.; or The Friends may be contacted through the library

A booth will be chaired by Mrs. Bagnall at the festival to be held at the Serramonte Shopping Mall April 27-28.

Hand-crafted bookmarks many of which are of original design, will be sold. Signs of the zodiac in a riot of colored felt have been shaped into form by scissors in the hands of volunteers at workshops. Another special feature this year is entitled 'Little Girl with a Flower

The Friends have been sponsoring at least six daytime book reviews, which they offer free of charge to the public as a community service. These series are among the oldest in continuous existence in the state. For the past two years additional night-time book reviews have been given.

Programs of interest to the community are offered each year following two brief general membership meetings. In Japuary of this year Robert Kearney, Daly City librarian in charge of audiovisual and technical services previewed his 1973 movies of the antiquities of Egypt which were accompanied by specially collected records set in a sound track.

On May 22, The Friends are sponsoring a Filipino cultural event which will be given with the cooperation of the Filipino-American Association of Northern San Mateo County, to be held in the new clubhouse in Westlake Park. The public is welcomed.

After months of planning and collecting, categorizing and pricing used books records and sheet music, The Friends 10th Annual Book Fair will take place May 17-18 at the Westlake Shopping Mall. The Fair receives wide community support.

The Friends have given many gifts to the library, which have included the establishment of collections of 8mm films, circulating phonograph records, circulating frame prints of fine art, and circulating large print books. Other gifts have included equipment not budgeted by the library.

Presently the group considers of utmost importance their project of furnishing and equipping a planned community and cultural room in the new library to be constructed in Gellert Park in the Serramonte area. This room will provide a multipurpose facility for cultural exchanges, music recitals, historical collections and art

The Friends also give and encourage gifts in honor of and in memorial.

They have established the children's story hour during the summer in libraries and in the field as part of the summer recreation program. Members of the Friends originally entertained children as story-tell-

The annual Riordan Festival will have special significance this spring, according to Mrs. John Bologna, publicity chairwoman for the Riordan Guild.

This year's benefit for the school will be tied into the year-long celebration of Riordan High School's 25th anniversary and the theme for this weekend's festivities will be, naturally enough, Anniversary Parents, students, faculty and friends of the school are invited to enjoy the fun and entertainment which begins Friday and runs through Sunday. Mrs. Bologna indicates that activities have been planned for all age groups and that prizes "abound."

On Sunday, beginning at 3 p.m., a barbecue chicken dinner will be served at a cost of $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

As in the past, the proceeds from the festival will be used to purchase educational aids for the school and to assist with the cost of building improvements. Hugh Gallagher is the 1974 festival chairman. MEMBERS OF the Fifty Plus Club will hold a regular meeting on Tuesday at 10 a.m. and then go home and pack their bags and raid the cookie jars for a little gaming money in preparation for another of that group's frequent outings. The members of this unretiring senior's group will head for Nevada and the fun spots in Carson City and Reno on Wednesday morning. Plans call for two days in our neighboring state as the traveling Fifty Plusers make their first out of state jaunt of 1974.

MRS. MARILYN BAGNALL, bookmark chairwoman for the Daly City Friends of the Library, has called a meeting of her committee for April 11 to wind up work on the book marks to be sold at the Serramonte Shopping Center Festival the final weekend of this month.

This final workshop will be held in the Westlake

In addition to preparing to stock the "Friends" bookmark booth for Serramonte, guild members are gathering books to sell at the annual Used Book Fair in the Westlake Shopping Center Mall May 17 and 18.

Mrs. Denise Schwarzbach, fair chairwoman, and Mrs. Ruth Giammona, book pricing chairwoman, are asking persons with books to donate to bring contributions to the libraries as soon as possible so that the books may be processed and priced now and members will then be relieved of the stress of a frantic last minute effort.

THE DALY CITY GIRL Scout Association has released the days and hours for Scout swimming sessions at the Jefferson High School during April.

The schedule, issued this past week indicates that senior Girl Scouts and Cadettes will swim tomorrow between 7 and 9 p.m. The Brownies will be swimming the same hours April 18 and the Juniors will be there at that time April 25.

Jefferson pool will be closed this coming week because of spring vacation.

MRS. MARY McCOY, director of volunteer services at Mary's Help Hospital, is on the lookout for some items you just might have, sitting unused, in your home. The pediatrics and teen departments of the hospital are in need of books and games for children and young people and any contributions would be most gratefully accepted.

Donations, in good condition, may be left for Mrs. McCoy at the information desk in the hospital

Also on the list of needed items are volunteer uniforms. Former volunteers who no longer need or want their uniforms are asked to donate them to the guild to be loaned to temporary volunteers.

Good morning, good cooks.

Year ago there was a hit song that went like this, "Potatoes are cheaper, tomatoes are cheaper, now's the time to fall in love." That song surely wouldn't suit today's living costs would it? But there are ways of stretching the food dollar a bit and this first recipe will do just that.

MARCONI AND CORNED BEEF

- 21/2 cups uncooked macaroni
- 1 12-ounce can corned beef
- 2 Tablespoons butter
- 1/4 cup flour 2 cups milk
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese Buttered crumbs.

Cook the two and one-half cups macaroni in boiling salted water. Drain. Break the 12-ounces corned beef into pieces. Butter a 21/2-quart casserole and arrange alternate layers of macaroni and corned

Melt two tablespoons butter in small saucepan over low heat, add the fourth cup flour and stir until blended and slowly add the two cups milk, stirring constantly to avoid lumps. Add the one cup grated cheddar cheese and continue stirring and cooking until melted. Pour over the macaroni and corned beef. Sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake in 350-degree oven 20 minutes or until bubbly hot.

Tear the bread into small, small pieces. Melt the four tablespoons butter in a skillet, add crumbs and stir until well coated.

Speaking of saving money, my friend Ellen Hough, suggests using mackerel instead of salmon in making this next dish. There is quite a difference in cost and the mackerel makes a delicious entree.

MACKEREL PIE

- 2 beaten eggs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 1/4 chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley 1 cup diced celery
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 can (15 oz.) mackerel Pastry for top crust

In mixing bowl combine the two beaten eggs. one-half cup milk, 1 tablespoon melted butter, onefourth cup chopped onion, two tablespoons chopped parsley, one cup diced celery, one-fourth teaspoon salt and mackerel, drained and broken into small eon pieces. Blend well.

Grease a 9-inch pie plate well. Press the mackerel mixture into plate and top with pastry. Flute the edges and cut slits for steam to escape. Bake in 425-degree oven for 25 minutes. Serves 6.

266 Calories a Day Diet

'Starve for Survival' at SSF High

By JACK BIK

Thirty-six South San Francisco High School students ended their 72-hour "starve for survival" Friday.

For four days the students limited their diets to 266 calories a day. This amount, according to teacher Bob Jacobs, is the amount each person in the world would receive if all food were equally distributed.

Participants received one meal a day - a cup of plain cooked rice, a half-cup of spinach and one cup of powered milk — that is all.
Students are attending all their classes, including physical education. They were not allowed to leave the school, watch television or listen to the radio or phonograph. They slept in the school gymansium, which, to some extent, paralleled conditions under which the average person in this world

"Not many students in this school know what starvation really is," Jacobs declared. "What they have is very much taken for granted."

He added that, "We are trying to dramatize the problem of hunger and starvation in a non-violent manner. A day before the end of the starve, Jacobs commented, the students began to feel a bit lightheaded, were getting tired, and losing their concentration.

Taking part in the starve was even one mother. All the students wore armbands around the school and found themselves the butt of a good deal of good-natured teasing, but they feel the message is getting through.

We found we related to each other a good deal more than to our normal friends, one girl commented.

Each student had a sponsor, who pledged at least three cents an hour. Some $1,270 is expected to be raised for "Futures for Children," an American Indian group.

The starve program was climaxed Friday afternoon by a party, and favorite food was served, such as pizza, lasagna and chocolate cake.

THESE SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO High School students do not seem very excited over their dinner but they had better eat it, because that's all they are going to get. Seniors Greg Flowers and Grace Brewer hold rice and powdered milk, while sophomore Dore Ripley glumly eyes the spinach. They were among 36 students who spent 72 hours this week subsisting on the world's average diet of 266 calories a day.

Pacifica's Preservation Plan — Try Again

Where has Pacifica's revolutionary Hillside Preservation law gone sour?

This ordinance, adopted in 1972 after long study by a citywide committee, was supposed to have opened the way for innovative techniques of building a city.

It was designed to show how a city - once its level land has been filled with homes - could build new neighborhoods on its hills, without spoiling the natural

Under the ordinance no longer would homes be built up the hills in straight rows, lining steep streets that cut deep gashes in the natural

The new ordinance set up rules to insure that the least amount of landscape would be covered with streets or homes, and the maximum amount of land would be left in natural open space.

It contained such rules as: more padding or terracing of building sites. • Roads should follow natural contours.

• Save all natural features, such as streams, ridge lines, canyon rock outcroppings, vistas and natural Buildings should be clustered, or constructed as areas of open space.

create buildings suited to natural hillside surround-

The new ordinance also sought to save Pacificans from the nightmare which has plagued other dwellers of recently developed Bay Area tracts-that of the hill sliding down into their patio, or their floors lurching as their homes begin a long slide down the mountain.

Adding urgency to the problem, for Pacificans, is that about 40 per cent of their land is undeveloped. Virtually all of this land forms an attractive backdrop for their seaside city.

Yet nothing has ever been developed under this new ordinance. The Hillside Review Board considered more than a dozen developments but they all faltered along the way for various reasons. Finally came what seemed the perfect develop-ment, the 805-unit Rockaway Highlands project.

It was drawn up following the ordinance, and even won a major design prize. Yet it was turned down overwhelmingly in a referendum election last November.

After the voting, councilmen asked that the Planning Commission and Hillside Review Board study what was wrong with ordinance. Finally, after a number of late-night meetings, a rechigh rises to save larger ommendation was prepared for a series of changes. Add a provision to the HPD ordinance requiring that a program be submitted outlining methods and techniques to be used for ownership, maintenance or preservation of open space, recreation facilities, or other in-common elements of the proposed development.

Part of the statement of intent of the ordinance now reasons: Help protect people and property from potentially hazardous condiions due to grades and geology. The statement should be expanded to include all dangers, including drainage, fire and traffic.

Tighten up restrictions on permitting any development of land of over 35 per cent grade. A mathematical formula to cover all degrees of slope is proposed.

Landscaped areas should be considered "covinstead of being exempted, so as to discourage grading.

lacktriangle Add a parking standard for townhouses, of $2^{1/2}$ parking spaces per unit, two of which would be in a garage.

• A ridge line should be defined as "the silhouette of hillsides against the sky as seen from various points throughout the community.

• Density should not be regulated specifically by the HPD ordinance. Land use Among recommendations lished in the Hillside District giving some firm planning direction on densities as part of the General Plan.

 The 30-day limit for HPR Board action should be taken out. An application and fee should be set up for HPR Board review. The HPR Board should make a recommendation before the developer can present either the development plan or specific

• Streets and driveways should not be counted as 'natural state,'' unless a street serves a major citywide circulation function and would not otherwise be needed for the project.

• Clarify just what the HPR Board should consider. There were a few controersial items on which the HPR Board and Planing Commission may have failed to give final answers. They arrived at no definitive answer to the question: "Should ridge lines be graded or built on?" say that "most of any ridge line should definitely not be built on. Any development on a ridge line (should) be of low profile, of absolute minimum visual impact, and involve the absolute minimum amount of grading.

And there appeared to be little said on the question which caused much of the opposition to Rockaway Highlands — the danger of increased traffic through designations and circulation established residential corridors should be estab-

Skyline Cracks Relays Record

By FRED BAER Post Correspondent

A quartet of Skyline College iron men led the Trojans to a record-breaking victory in the Coast Conference Relays Saturday at the San Bruno school's all-weather track.

After combining for a national leading season best of 61.4 in the 480-yard shuttle high hurdles, the group continued to rampage as Skyline chalked up a meet record 132 points - ahead of challengers Hartnell (103) and Monterey Peninsula (94). Old mark was 129 points by Hartnell.

Bart Pierce figured in five wins, Jim Wyatt in four, Tom Swartzell and Ike Allmond three apiece. But the chilly weekend weather wasn't right for a close attempt at the netional hurdle record of 59.1 - and Menlo finished just a tenth behind the Trojans.

Menlo finished sixth among the seven teams in the meet with 30 points, one behind fifth place Ohlone. However Menlo high jumper Pete McMurran turned in the meet's top field performance with a 6-7 leap. But he failed at 6-9 and the Oaks finished one inch behind Hartnell's winning threeman relay total of 17-8.

Decathlon man Swartzell, who competed in "only" six events because of a groin muscle pull, had the best javelin toss at 146-9 in pacing Skyline's winning 428-2 total — which included a 146-5 throw by teammate Jeff Snyder. Snyder had the best discus toss, 131-7, as Skyline won that event at 367-11 (with Swartzell tossing 117-1). But they settled for second in the shot put relay to Hartnell.

Steve Bule also figured in three wins $-\log$ and triple jumps plus the mile relay. Allmond was the individual eader in the triple jump at 43-534 and also won the 120 high hurdles by three full tenths in 14.6, latter under the meet record but wind-assisted.

In an unusual switch, Skyline's national high hurdle leader Pierce took care of the 100 convincingly in meetrecord bettering but wind-aided 9.8. He joined with Benny Wright, Wyatt and Bob Fontana for a runaway victory in the 440 relay in 43.5. Pierce was in three of the first four running events as the Trojans scored 34 of 36 possible points and streaked to the team title.

With Carl Ellis taking Wright's place, Skyline won the 880 relay by nearly four seconds in 1:31.9. The mile relay quartet of Pierce, Wyatt, Bule and Kevin Adams completed a Trojan sweep of the six sprint and hurdle events.

A ROUND OF MISCELLANY:

When Henry Aaron breaks Babe Ruth's record, try to remember that you read about its possibility in this column some nine or ten years ago.

But the only credit we can really take for it is in putting into print what statistical buff Dick Coltrell theorized way back then. Coltrell, then a Daly City neighbor (now a Southern California high school principal), was an assistant to Jefferson High School District Superintendent Ed Morgan and presented to us a chart which clearly showed that Hank Aaron had the only realistic chance of beating the Bambino's career homerun record.

While everybody then was talking about Willie May's and Harmon Killebrew, and even Eddie Mathews, Coltrell was confidently prediting that it would be Aaron to do it. Unfortunately, we did away with the chart after we published it, and now cannot locate the column in which we carried Coltrell's findings, so we can't nail down the year Coltrell predicted it would happen. But we believe that he said it would either be late in 1973 or early '74

READY, TRIVIA experts? What was the first sports feature to be shown on local television, and when . . was the first live televised sporting event locally, and when Who was the play-by-play man on that program?

ANSWERS: The first sports program was a 15 minute film entitled "Touchdown," featuring scenes from outstanding college football games, at 3 p.m. Dec. 18, 1948. It was, in fact, the first program ever televised by the first station, KPIX. It was used to help dealers demonstrate television sets to prospective buyers who were reluctant to purchase TV sets based only on the clarity of test patterns. which were all that were being shown up 'til then. The first live telecast of a local sporting event was an ice hockey game between the San Francisco Shamrocks and the Oakland Oaks (the hockey team, not the baseball team) at 8:30 p.m. on Dec. 22, 1948, at Winterland. Bill Baldwin, then a local radio announcer with little experience in sports (he's now an announcer in L.A. and does occasional bit movie roles, usually as an announcer or newspaper reporter), didthe play-by-play. Oakland won, 3-1.

MORE TRIVIA. Steve Yeager, the Dodgers' second string catcher, threw out 30 of 32 potential base stealers in the Dominican Winter League. There are some baseball experts who claim that Yeager is a better defensive catcher than Johnny Bench, who is touted as the best in baseball.

If the 1964-65 college basketball season didn't produce the best-ever crop of future pros. it must rank up among 'em. Do you remember the wire service All Americans of that season? Here they are: Bill Bradley, Cazzie Russell, Rick Barry, Gail Goodrich, Fred Hetzel.

That was one year when nobody could say that All American ratings were irrelevant.

Speaking of All Star basketball teams, the All-NBA team picked by theplayers and announced by The Sporting News, produced a couple of surprises.

The players' first team was Haywood and Havlicek at forwards, Abdul-Jabbar at the post, and Frazier and Bing at guards. The second team was made up of Hayes and DeBusschere at forwards, Lanier at center, and Chenier and Goodrich at guards.

We don't know about you, but we were surprised that Rick Barry — the only Warrior mentioned — could draw only an Honorable Mention, and that Dave Bing beat out Gail Goodrich. In fact, we're surprised that Bing, who made a good comeback after a bad year but who still did not have a "Dave Bing Year." was able to get more than an Honorable Mention.

We in fact thought that if Bob Lanier couldn't get the Most Valuable Player vote (Abdul-Jabbar did), that Goodrich might have been the next most logical choice.

On second thought, we guess we shouldn't be too surprised about Barry's virtual snub, because if there's more of a popularity poll than an NBA All-Star team picked by fans, it's an NBA All-Star team picked by players. And Rick Barry is by far not one of the most-liked players in the

One more sidelight to that NBA player-picked "All" squad, for what it's worth. Seven of the top-10 scorers didn't get so much as an Honorable Mention.

And three cheers for the guts of North Carolina State. To twice come from 11 points behind as late as the second half in regulation time, and then from seven behind with less than three minutes remaining in a second over-time period against a team with the most awesome reputation in the history of collegiate basketball, took a lot of character.

We were rooting for UCLA, but any team which dissipates such big, late leads, doesn't deserve to be a national

WE READ IN the paper that George Allen's dogs are in trouble. No, not the Redskin coach's feet, but his dogs, literally, his dogs.

Neighbors in his home town of Fairfax, Va., have filed suit for an injunction to force him to keep his two dogs fenced up or on a leash. The suit claims that George's dogs have terrorized the neighborhood, attacking neighbors and

The wire service report did not specify the types of dogs Allen owns, but we bet they are OLD dogs maybe just a couple of wild, ugly, retired linebackers George is trying to get into shape for next season by having them Red Dog the neighbors.

But those neighbors could have saved themselves a lot of trouble, time and expense if only they would have thought of occasionally throwing a gallon of vanilla ice cream at the dogs, which would surely have placated them. _

LOCAL NOTES: Mack McCrady, San Francisco State's 310 pound wrestler, is among seven West Coast men on the 10-man U.S. team selected to face the touring Soviet Union squad on March 30 at Cal's Harom Gym.

Big Mac (where are you, Ray Kroc?) was deprived of a really outstanding season with the Gators. (He probably would have helped the Gators to an even higher standing than their ninth place in the NCAA College Division Tournament) because of the effects suffered from a shoulder dislocation in February

Hopefully, he'll take out his frustrations on the Russians, which will at least partially make up for a somehat disappointing season.

Rich Morales, the former Westmoor-Terra Nova baseball player, and the first Pacifican to make the big leagues, has been farmed out to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League by San Diego.

TAG END: As we warned might happen in an earlier column, that almond radio commercial starring Rick Barry and Jerry West proved prophetic. As West says, "Rick, you be sure and catch the playoffs on television.

The Warriors didn't get anything they didn't deserve. and the Lakers deserved everything they got, even though they played the last six or seven games way over their heads, shooting better than 55 per cent from the floor. among other unbelievable things. They had guts, and so did their coach, Bill Sharman.

The priority plan for expenditure of $2.191,448 the county its cities and recreation districts will receive if the $250 million state park bond act is approved by voters in the June 4 primary election was approved March 19 by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors

Under the local agreement, the cities will receive 90 per cent of the funds, and the county 10 per cent, plus the $2,000 which the town of Colma would receive. Colma officials have notified the county the town does not want to participate in the program and has allocated its share to the county for regional parks and recreation purposes.

Supervisor Gerald F. Day was unsuccessful in asking his fellow supervisors to allocate the Colma funds to the $92.500 share the city of Belmont is receiving and allocating toward the proposed $4 million Belmont aquatic complex advocated by Day.

The amounts which would be received by the cities and the proposed projects:

Atherton, $30,000, bicycle paths: Belmont, $92,500. aquatic complex: Brisbane, $10,800, purchase of community center; Burlingame. $103,400. development of Bayside

Foster City. $63,400, acquisition of 25 additional acres for regional park at southeastern edge of city.

Half Moon Bay, $19,300. purchase of Cassinelli property: Hillsborough. $32,700. purchase of Remillard Dandini mansion (if property not purchased, funds to be used for tennis courts at North School)

Menlo Park, $97.900, acquisition of open space for family camping in the bay front development and "The Hill" at the westerly end of Valparaiso Avenue; Millbrae, $77.300. development of a community park in the northerly section of the city

Pacifica, $141.200, acquisition and development of Frontierland: Portola Valley, $18,700, purchase of land for soccer and baseball playing fields in the Los Trancos Woods

Redwood City, $204,600, Middlefield neighborhood park acquisition.

San Bruno. $141.600. park acquisition, fifth addition area: development of Forest Lane and Hermosa parks: development of Concord Way Tot Lot; initial development of park' space along San Antonio Avenue on the S.P. rightof-way; initial development of Crestmoor School Park; development of Grundy Park. Rollingwood Park. initial development of Crestmoor Canyon Park.

San Carlos, $97,200, acquisition of land to provide access to Eaton Park from Lonia Road; beginning development of Crestview Park

San Mateo. $293,000, development and improvement of Indian Springs, Bayside School, Joinville Pool, Beresford, Shoreview, Lakeshore, Trinta and King parks; development of historical trail markings and campsites of Spanish explorers; development of wilderness and day camp, Laurelwood Park; development of Bayfront Park/Marina Lagoon marshland and wilderness area: protection, replenishment, conservation and improvement of water supply in vicinity of Coyote Point, especially municipal golf course: acquisition of Lauriedale Village Park.

South San Francisco. $181,000, development of Westborough and Sigh Hill parks: Woodside, $18,000, development of recreation trails for hiking, biking and horseback riding: improvement of playing fields at Woodside School: purchase of park and open space in Woodside Hills.

Ravenswood Recreation District, $71.900, new multipurpose center and gymnasium.

Highlands Recreation District. $10,300: tennis court lights: new classrooms: Ladera Park and Recreation District. $6.800. improvement and development of bicycle paths: development of soccer fields in cooperation with Portola Valley and Woodside.

San Mateo County has allocated its $221.148 for Pescadero Creek Park development and for aid to unincorporated areas for park and recreational services.

Also, the State Department of Parks and Recreation has allocated $2.560.000 of the state's share of the bond funds for beach development projects in the county.

These include campground and day use facilities at San Gregorio State Beach. $1,760,000; a campground at Half Moon Bay Beach. $300,000, and general development of state beaches on the San Mateo coast, $500,000.

THE POST-17

BILLION STRONG

In troubled times...and calm ones... savers have discovered there's no place quite like Home. Since 1889, Home Savings has meant perfect safety for hard-earned income-through wars, depressions, recessions, and countless periods of stress and uncertainty.

Today, this kind of safety and assurance is more precious than ever. It's also more rewarding... with higher interest available to savers, starting with 51/4 % Passbook Accounts (more than any bank on similar accounts) and moving on up to 71/2 % term accounts, with interest on all accounts compounded daily for faster growth. Add to this Home's many valuable free services, and Home's great strength of $5 billion in assets—and it's no secret why so many savers have decided that the best place of all to be... is Home.

And as for the Warriors' tiredness, as Jim Barnett himself exclaimed, "Bull..." A group of young, finely conditioned athletes should be able to play to peak performances for two straight weeks, especially with a championship at stake. Adrenalin itself should have carried them through Or pride. At that age, and in that kind of shape, what's two hour's hard work a night?

We just wonder what might have been, even with the final collapse, had Jeff Mullins and Nate Thurmond had the kinds of years of which they are capable. The Warriors might have had enough of a-cushion to survive that disastrous last week of the season.

'The tree saved me," she said. "I got everyone together, and found that we were all right. I was wearing a safety belt, but I got hurt.

She was considerably bruised and complained of a sore neck. The little girl received a bruise on her knee but the baby-in just an infant seat - was undurt according to the police reports.

"I started to get out of the car and found it was too muddy, so I just sat and honked," said Mrs. Lim. "In about three minutes, I saw a couple of Pacifica policemen starting down the hill. I was never so thankful to see them."

A tow truck crew worked for two hours Wednesday to retrieve the pickup, then came back Thursday and pulled it up to the road after five hours. The crew had to saw through trees wedging the truck. Damage was estimated at $1900

City Hall Plan Stalled

San Francisco City Hall wing City Councilman Frank Mammini blasted the proposed contract.

New Phone Number Noted

South San Francisco has a new emergency number. City Manager Ed Alario announced today

It is 873-3333 The one number will serve for all types of emergencies within city limits - fire. accident, crime or other-The city also has a new City Hall number, 873-8000.

The new emergency numher is the first step to the city merging its three emergency radio dispatching services, now maintained separately by the police, fire and public services departments. The unified switchboard, to be maintained by a newly organized city communications division, will handle all radio dispatching. The merger is expected to be completed within six weeks. Until then, all emergency calls will actually go to the police department, which will route them to the proper dispatcher

The new City Hall number is a first step toward each city department getting its own after-hours number During regular City Hall hours, most city calls will continue to go through the switchboard.

SSF Sets Planner

Roberta Teglia was appointed to the South San Francisco Planning Commission Monday night.

She will fill the vacancy left by resignation of Don Gamma, in June, 1973, following his defeat for City Council. The council apparently had been unable to agree upon a commissioner until two new councilmen were elected last month.

Mrs. Teglia resides at 378 Altamont Drive. She was born in South San Francisco and lived there her entire life, except to attend Seattle University, where she earned her bachelor of arts degree in political science.

Alario promised to review the agreement and eliminate not the intention of staff, he explained, that the city would actually have to pay anything over the 9.75 per cent fee agreed upon.

In other actions, the City Council:

 Approved a series of resolutions accepting grant deeds of a number of lots on Chestnut Avenue for the site of the new public safety complex. The city has held options on all these parcels. They include: Roy and Emily Uccelli, $90,000; Oak arm Inc. and George J. ccelli. $875.000: Lawrence J.  Approved a fourmonth moratorium on any conversion to condominium provisions which could result ownership of property pre-in such fee increases. It was viously built for rental. Public Services Director Frank Addiego reported that the giant Grubb and Ellis apartment development in Westborough already has started conversion proceedings and will not be stopped.

Owners of an older apartment house and an office building have made inquiries on such conversion. City Atty. John Noonan revealed. A study of the effects of such conversion will be made, he

Old World Elegance New World Luxury

The new Hyatt On Union Square is a blend of "old world" elegance and "new world" luxury. Great attention was given to the decor of each of the restaurants. The Plaza restaurant, which overlooks the center of downtown San Francisco, Union Square, sets a garden theme. Dominating the room-is a huge stained glass dome which was custom designed for Hyatt On Union Square by Artist Jerry Shorrock. Below the dome is a circular fountain with water cascading from a center bowl supported by a sculptured cluster of seahorses. Lunch, cocktails, and dinner are served. A sumptuous Sunday Brunch can also be enjoyed in this garden setting, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., featuring a choice of many entrees, plus super specialty treats for children under 12. In The One Up on the 36th floor, the decor is subtle. which enhances the spectacular views of the City and the San Francisco Bay Area. Piano renditions by John Pietrimonoco. Scotty Campbell's Has "Genuine Touch"

The hundreds of patrons who file through the doors of Scotty Campbell's every week are responding to what coowner Mary Lou Fox calls the 'Genuine touch.' That "touch" is a winning combination that has taken the family who operates this handsome Redwood City restaurant (Mary Lou, Theresa and Bud Urban, and Helen Trainor) years to perfect. And it blends together gourmet dining, fine service, hospitable atmosphere, and all-around amiability. The result is that Scotty Campbell's remains one of the most outstanding restaurants on the Peninsula

Vince Licata's menu of specialties at Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant ranks as the final word in variety, and encompasses most every known Italian and sea food dish and its variation. Among our personal favorites are the Red Snapper (broiled) and Veal Scaloppini. Allow 20 minutes extra for such dishes as Baked Lasagne and Chicken Liver Saute. Steaks? You better believe it Lehr's Greenhouse restaurant in San Francisco is a hit with confirmed beefeaters. The handsome dinner menu lists a mouth-water selection of steaks (including a thick, tender porterhouse), plus fork-tender prime ribs and baron of beef

Bookie Raids Net Suspects

Five men, one of whom is already in custody at the Sierra Conservation Camp at James town, have been rounded up in a series of bookmaking raids in San Francisco and San Mateo counties since March 22, it was announced Wednesday

One of the men, Ronald Sacco, 31, was served with a conspiracy warrant at the state jail facility at Jamestown for his part in planning the bookmaking operations, Detective Jack Stuart of San Mateo County's Organized Crime Unit reported.

The investigation actually led to two separate operations, Stuart said.

The first involved a twoman operation, according to Stuart. He said Armando Cosenza Sr., 55, whose last known address was in Millbrae, surrendered himself on a conspiracy charge after accepting bets while working at a car rental lot at 1801 El Camino Real, San Carlos.

John S. Facchino, 65 owner of Johnny's Smoke Shop on Oak Grove Avenue in Menlo Park, was charged with one count of bookmaking. Stuart reported. Stuart said Facchino was running a $1,000 a day operation, and had 547 markers and $1,500 in cash when picked up March 22

Reported to be part of the same operation as Sacco. Stuart said was Ronald J. Noto, 31, of 318 Ardendale Drive. Dog Finds Suspect In Store

A Daly City policeman's pet German Shepherd dog was credited with routing a 19-year-old San Francisco youth allegedly hiding in the giant Macy's department store in the Serramonte Shopping Center after closing hours Saturday.

The dog, owned by police Sgt. Richard Seguine, sniffed out Lorin Blane Frierson, 19. of 164 Baltimore St., after store employes told police they spotted three men acting suspiciously inside the store shortly before it closed Saturday night, police said.

A police posse under the supervision of Sgt. Roger Austin staked out the store following Frierson's arrest, but, no one else was found.

Still unexplained is who shot a flare into the air from the roof of the shopping center about 2 a.m. Sunday.

As police kept watch over the store from several vantage points, a brilliant flare illuminated the night sky.

But police could not locate where it originated or who fired it.

Police suspect the flare was a possible diversionary *tactic to draw attention while persons inside the store made their getaway.

Clerk Takes Statements

San Mateo County Clerk-Recorder Marvin Church said Friday that he will continue to accept financial disclosure statements from political candidates and top appointed county office holders until the State Supreme Court makes a ruling on a challenge of the law.

The high court suspended such filings, under the Moscone conflict of interest bill. Friday pending a hearing on the matter. The new law would have required all elective officials, as well as county and city managers and members of city and county planning commissions, to file conflict of interest financial statements with local county clerks starting

April 1 Church said that any such statements filed with his office will be made a matter of public record.

The clerk-recorder emphasized that the court ruling does not affect the campaign disclosure law in which candidates for public office must make two filings prior to the June 4 primary election of campaign contributions and expenditures.

Candidates seeking office in the June 4 primary, as well as supporters and opponents of ballot measures, must submit campaign financial disclosure statements between May 7 and May 10, and again between May 25 and May 28.

Another campaign financial disclosure statement also is due after the election, between July 5 and July 10.

approves it. Assembly Bill 1116, which has been passed by the state legislature and signed by the governor, repeals part of the state education code which requires PE for all community college students. It becomes effective July 1,

As of that date, it is expected that the San Mateo district will delete its mandatory rule for PE as well.

However, according to a ruling by the San Mateo County district attorney's office, it is believed that the district can still make PE mandatory for those students seeking the AA degree conferred by the colleges.

"I defend this as a requirement for gradua-Chancellor Glenn Smith said Wednesday.

It was pointed out that most students who currently take PE courses in the district do so voluntarily.

Will there be a dramatic drop in enrollment in PE in the fall? The administration was not sure Wednesday.

Although more than one trustee voiced displeasure with being forced to act on the matter by state authorities, it was apparent that most of them believed they had little choice but to comply with state law

"You can't change it," Trustee James Tormey said. 'That's the law. And that's the name of the game.

Trustee Eleanore Nettle said she was concerned about the philosophy behind the change. "IF PE is good for some students, why isn't it for others," she asked. What is the rationale for this?'

"This is the law," stressed Trustee Robert Tarver. The recommendation presented by the administration was for first reading only. No vote was taken. In other matters, the trus-

Approved an agreement with Peninsula Cable Television Corp. which will allow that firm to install three antennas on a building at the College of San Mateo. In return for that, the company will provide the school with an estimated $12,500 worth of instructional gear and installation of a cable TV signal on the campus. The vote was 5-0.

Listened to a report from the chancellor and his staff on district finances and how the district is currently being affected by SB6, state legislation which limits a community college's revenues. According to Smith, he does not expect the district to experience grave fiscal problems in the coming
